New Dog Training Technology Makes “Potty Training” Easier

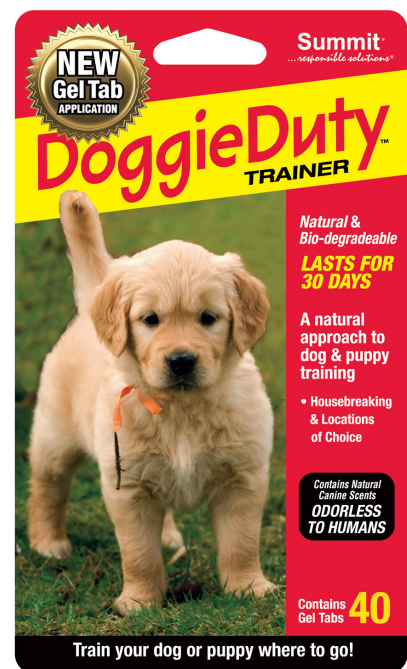

Now it’s easier than ever to train a dog where to go to relieve itself in the yard. Summit® DoggieDuty™ Trainer utilizes a dog’s natural instinct to cover the scent of another canine outdoors to mark and establish its territorial boundaries. DoggieDuty™ Trainer tablets contain concentrated coyote urine that dogs will naturally want to cover up with their own scent.

Placing a DoggieDuty™ Trainer gel tablet in the yard where you want your dogs to go will keep them from going in areas of the yard that you want to keep free of dog urine. The unique DoggieDuty™ Trainer gel-tablets will encourage dogs to confine their waste to specific areas in the yard, thereby protecting areas near patios, porches, outdoor living spaces, vegetable gardens and other sensitive landscape areas.

While odorless to humans, the active ingredient in DoggieDuty™ Trainer gel-tablets attracts dogs and encourages them to urinate. The active ingredients are natural and biodegradable.

Just drop a gel-tablet in or around the preferred waste area. Your hands will never come in contact with the active ingredients. DoggieDuty™ Trainer gel-tablets will last for 30 days— even in rainy or snowy conditions.

Summit® DoggieDuty™ Trainer is available in a package of 40 tablets. For more information visit www.summitresponsiblesolutions.com.
